

Genesis 45

1. How does Joseph react?
2. How do the brothers react?
3. What are the instructions from Joseph?
4. How does Joseph describe his living in Egypt?
5. What did Pharaoh do?
6. How did Jacob react?

The appeal of Judah is to Joseph irresistible. The repentance of his brothers, and their attachment to Benjamin, have been demonstrated in the most satisfactory manner. This is all that Joseph sought. It is evident, throughout the whole narrative, that he never aimed at exercising any supremacy over his brothers. As soon as he has obtained an affecting proof of the right disposition of his brothers, he conceals himself no longer. And the speech of Judah, in which, no doubt, his brothers concurred, does equal credit to his head and heart.
